"You should just do what you love, and that's what you'll do" The question of what one should do in life remains a perennial one. Afterall, the answer is so rarely a resounding "Yes, that's what I should do." So, here's my answer: You should do what you love. Do what you love, and the money will take care of itself. Do what you love, and you'll never have to work a day in your life. So, how do you figure out what you love to do? Well, that's what I love to do: Determine what you like to do. But, there's a difference between "discovering" what one likes to do, and "being" what one likes to do. Here's the difference: When you can't discover what you like to do because it's "where" you are. To discover what you like to do, you need to be a free agent. When you're a free agent.
