It's a feature that observes the content in the selected areas in an image or video, and then removes unwanted items to bring them into perfect alignment. It also enables you to move any white background into any other empty areas. This is a time-saving tool. You can also choose many settings such as:

- - The area to be moved
- - The amount of area
- - The color of the new background

Smart Sharpen is an algorithm that automatically removes noisy areas in your photos. It's more effective than the traditional Sharpen function, because it attempts to preserve fine detail in low-noise areas such as detail in the subjects' eyes. This is especially helpful when you're focusing on enlarging a part of the photo by zoom than using the Sharpening tool. It's a feature that analyzes your image and tries to find details duplicated elsewhere. It then changes the content of the picture to blend with the type of background or article. This tool is especially fast and easy to use. It's particularly useful in enlarging an image with other adjustments to blend the colors into the background. Additional Camera Raw image editing features include new camera profiles to dramatically enhance the appearance of images taken with the latest devices, including Nikon and Sony. Camera profiles let users adjust exposure, adjust color, add vignetting, and correct flaws in the image. These improved camera profiles improve the quality and appearance of photos taken with the latest devices including recent DSLRs and mirrorless cameras from Nikon, Sony, Fujifilm, Olympus and Panasonic. These profiles are based on the new deep image neural network technology, and support both RAW and JPEG photographed images. In the future, the profile feature will be expanded to support camera RAW plug-ins, including Lightroom, Aperture, Flickr RAW, and other custom RAW plug-ins.
